C. G. Jung saw in the cultural history of Western man a progressive evolution of its God-image. During the last ten years of his life, he wrote a series of letters about the new God-image which is now emerging through the discoveries of depth psychology. Ed. Edward Edinger has selected fourteen of these letters to discuss and has segmented the book into the following three parts: Epistemological Premises - Modern man's new awareness of subjectivity. The Paradoxical God - The nature of the new God-image as a union of opposites. Continuing Incarnation - How the new God-image is born in individual men and women.
